CLEP and DSST examinations cover material taught in courses that most students take as requirements in the first two years of college. Many CLEP and DSST examinations are designed to correspond to one-semester courses; some, however, correspond to full-year or two-year courses. Unless stated otherwise in its description, an examination is intended to cover material in a one-semester course.

*Thomas Edison State University is not responsible for the CLEP/DSST exams you take that do not fit into your institution's degree plans.

Students are responsible for confirming that the CLEP/ DSST exams they take are degree applicable.
